Hongrong, February 1st, 1892. Ar rather fitful intervals the gold mines of Pahang, like the tin mines of the other Malay States, have excited a spasmodic attention in Hongkong and Shanghai, due to the several limited liability companies formed to exploit rather in the light of a joint stock gamble than as earnest and sober efforts to develop the undoubted mineral resources of the Malayan Peninsula and win the wealth that lies hidden there. As a proof of this it is notorious that the shares of the Perak and Selangor Tin Mining Companies and of the Punjom Gold Mining Company were boomed to a premium of more than 200 per cent, before any ore had been extracted from either. It was a gamble pure and simple, and with few exceptions little interest was taken in the properties thoughtlessly invested in by figure as one of the most valuable possession came of course. The first named Companies have disappeared and with them nearly every cent of the money invested. The Punjom Company lives on, but its shares have fallen to a discount of 80 per cent, although its prospects from a mining nation are published in the Clasette. point of view were never so good as at the present moment. Even then, however, the amount of capital would be insufficient to explore and develop the enormous concession possessed by the Punjom and Sunghie Dua Samantan Mining Company. There is room for the formation of half a dozen companies o work this gold field, and it is possible that when the attention of European capitalists has been seriously devoted to Pahang there will be the needed influx of capital.

These remarks have been suggested by the recent utterances of Mr. J. WOODYATT, aof some British capitalists to inspect Raub and other mining districts in Pahang. Mr. Woodyarr was interviewed by the reporters of the Singapore papers, and gave a highly capabilities of Raub, which he says is not a gold mine but a gold field, which were it located in Australia would have a population of 20,000 miners. The first annual meeting of the Hougkons Institute of Engineers and Shipbuilders was held on Saturday evoting. The proceedings were heartily unanimons and suggested a keen interest in the affairs of the young institution which during its first year has more than justi-fied its existence. Mr. Robert Cooke, assistant manager of the Hongkong and Whampon Dock retired from that post will be succeeded by the Company, occupied the chair and there was crowded attendance of members.

Mr. Boyd-Mr. Chairman and gentlemen. do not think it will be necessary to go over all the items of this statement of account, simply because later on you will get a printed statement after the additor has signed the balance sheet. There is one item, however, that calls for few words, and that is an amount in the suspense secount. That amount is inquered through our late compradore. Of course with reference to the income and expenditure of the Institution the result for the year shows that it is self supporting, which is very satisfactory but I regret to say that the net result has been affected by defaloations of the late compradore, who has embossied monies paid to him by the members. I am afraid they must be left over until next year unless during the coming two months we can get them started. I can only say, gentlemen, in giving up the post of Secretary that I feel very proud indeed of the manner in which you have met me on all matters, and the way in which you have helped and assisted me in every direction make the Institution a success. THE RATE OF INTEREST IN THE FAR EAST.

We believe that within the last two months the traits Government has sold to private investors the whole of the five per cent. Singapore Municipal loan of 1889, amounting to $400,000. The sale of this loan has been made at par, and the investors who have secured it have almost considered that to be a favour. The Singapore Municipality is, therefore, out of debt to the Government of the Straits; and the Straits Goverement has received a very substantial sam of money, which should prevent it from going upon the market for a loan as it contemplated doing. This change in the financial situation is really due to the action of the banks in lowering their rates of interest; for it cannot be doubted that in doing so they have reduced the value of lendable money in the Straits and they have increased the value of all sound investments. Thus, in 1890, the not pass the accounts now.
